

Djembe Sounds and Strokes

The Slap:

Dangerous if played incorrectly. Fingers are relaxed and floppy. Bottom knuckles cross the bearing edge of the drum.

The player should gently “whip” the fingers and focus on the subsequent upstroke. This bright, biting tone is the accent stroke of the djembe.

